FRIAR ROCK A GOOD ONE. Thoroughbred Is Believed to Be as Speedy as Ormesdale. The performance of Friar Rock in the Whirl Stakes, which he won very easily in record time, further complicates the situation among 2-year-olds this year. Up to Saturday Ormesdale looked the best among the youngsters, and even with an impost of 126 pounds he got all the support. When it came to racing, however, he was so easily beaten by the son of Rock Band that many are of the opinion that Friar Rock can beat Ormesdale at even weights. This will be proved at the meeting at the Spa. The same horse that raced in the Whirl will meet again during August and under different conditions.

GOLF TOURNAMENT BEGINS AT SHAWNEE. Players Tee Off This Morning in Annual Invitation Meeting. SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, July 22.—The first of the early cards better than 20 was an 8, returned by Schwinn Worthon, Corkran, Parrish and Calvert were all expected to make a strong bid for the medal.

When half the field had made the round the only cards better than 20 were 7's, returned by the Corkran brothers, Warren and Clark. Warren had two 8's on his card, but was dropped because the former Princeton golfer worked in no less than four threes. His card read this way: B. Warren Corkran, Baltimore—Out 4 5 4 5 5 3 3 4—29 In 4 5 3 5 4 2 5 4—19-79

The younger member of this golfing family did his best playing going out, the turn being reached in 35. A six at the long tenth, another at the 17th and a missed putt on the home green accounted for his 41 coming back. His card: Clark Corkran—Out 4 4 5 4 5 4 4 2 5—38 In 4 4 5 4 5 4 3 6—41-73

Platt found a number of traps that he did not believe existed. Where he dropped badly was at the short eighth hole, only 105 yards long. Getting bunkered on his tee shot and taking two to get clear of the sand, the Ridgeview man took six for this hole. He was out in 45 and back in 42 for the same score was returned by Allen, while his partner, Calvert, had 83. Both got in trouble at the brook from the first tee and took seven. Worthington had a string of five holes, but two or three did not stand up to his score, which at the end totaled 84.

Parrish declared he never saw a course where one had to keep playing so hard at every hole. "No time to rest," was his observation. Parrish made an 85. One golfer, who had been dreaming of the dreaded binomial, or water hole, came in happy. "I got over the creek," was his gleeful shout, as he approached the 15th hole. "What was your score for the round?" asked a friend. "Oh, plenty, but never mind. I cleared the creek, came the rejoinder.

Following are the scores: B. W. Corkran, Baltimore, 39 40 79 Clark Corkran, Baltimore, 38 41 79 Alex. Colts, Shawnee, 40 45 85 R. L. Jackson, Williams, 40 45 85 Alex. TACOMA CLUB SETS NEW WORLD'S RECORD. Club Drives in 72 Runs in Four Successive Games With 92 Triple Hits. The Tacoma Club, of the Northwestern League, broke all previous records for consecutive hitting two weeks ago, when in four successive games against Victoria the Tigers tallied 72 runs and made 92 triple hits. They totaled 105 bases and included 21 doubles, four triples and three home runs.

On July 1 Tacoma started on this remarkable streak by winning a double-header from Victoria. The first game was won, 21 to 6, Tacoma making 29 hits, including seven doubles and a triple, off Pitchers McHenry and Harstad. Harstad has been in the Pacific Coast League and is rated as a fine twirler, while McHenry is now with the Cincinnati Reds, having been purchased a few days ago.

In the second game of the double-header Tacoma won, 9 to 4, beating McHenry, who tried to come back. Seventeen hits, including one double, two triples and two home runs, were made by the Tigers. On July 2 Pletcher Williams, formerly a major leaguer, was beaten by the score of 17 to 7. Tacoma getting 23 hits, including six doubles.

RACE TONIGHT AT POINT BREEZE MOTORDROME

CLARENCE CARMAN

BIG RACE IS SCHEDULED AT POINT BREEZE TONIGHT

Linar, Madonna and Bedell Will Go Fifty Miles on Bicycle. The big 50-mile international motor-race will be decided tonight at Point Breeze Park Motordrome. This race has been called off four times, but now Manager Roden feels that the jinx has fled, and is going to take another chance and stage this big event.

Never before in the history of the bicycle racing game has the public been so enthused over a race in which will be brought together four of the greatest followers of motor pace. In speaking of his chances last evening, Carman stated that he realized that, in meeting Linar, the Belgian champion; Madonna, the Italian, and Bedell, he will have to ride the race of his career, and further that if he is beaten by either one of these men, they will have to establish a new world's record for the 50 miles.

The American and his foreign rivals are all in the best of shape, and those who journey to the drome tonight may look for one of the greatest long-distance races ever decided in this country. In order to encourage the foreigners, Managers Steter and Roden have offered an additional purse of $100 to the man who defeats the American tonight. The foreign riders are determined, with this additional sum added, to make Yankee champion extend himself to his full limit. All of the riders will put on their finishing touches this morning and will rest up this afternoon for the big battle tonight.

In conjunction with the big race, there will be four motorcycle events at three o'clock and a race of unknown distance between Henri St. Yves, Vanderberry, Armstrong and Veditz. The park management has announced that if rain prevents this race, it will be held on Friday night.

REYNOLDS HAD CHANCE TO WORK OUT BRITTON

Refuses Morgan's Offer to Train Chicagoan for Dundee Fight Because of Local Bout. As Bobby Reynolds, of this city, is booked to box at a local club tomorrow night, he was forced to turn down a good offer the early part of the week to assist in the conditioning of Jack Britton for his match with Jumping Johnny Dundee at the Madison Square Garden, New York, tonight a week.

Danny Morgan wired the clever local lightweight to join Britton's stable of sparring partners, but as Bobby was anxious to be in the best of shape for his return appearance here with Buck Fleming at the Ludlow A. C., he decided to remain home and finish training for his own bout. Inasmuch as Reynolds and Dundee depend on the same style of boxing, Reynolds would have been of great assistance to him. They agreed that Bobby gave Dundee one of the hardest battles seen in this city. With the knowledge of the Italian's methods in the ring, Reynolds could spar against Britton and assist in that way Jack would be prepared for the cunning tricks of Johnny.

The initial show of the Allegheny A. C. will be held tomorrow night. In the future Promoter Pop O'Brien will stage weekly shows at the club on Friday nights. Johnny Nelson and Eddie McAndrews meet in the final. Word comes from Baltimore that Eddie Morgan has been matched for two bouts in the Monumental City in August. This may, Morgan and his manager, Bobby Morow, are spending a few weeks at the new of the season's reactivity. Tim Logan, heavyweight, who stopped See-Saw Kelly at the Quaker City, is no longer in the service of Uncle Sam. He is making preparations to leave for the West to seek fame and fortune in the squared circle. A 19-round bout between Jimmy Murray and Frank Burns will be staged at Rockaway Beach, N. Y., tomorrow night. Jack McGulgan said this morning there was no truth to the rumors that the National Club will remain closed this year. He expects to open the second or third week in August with an all-star show. The attendance at the open-air shows of the Ludlow A. C. this summer proves conclusively that West Philadelphia can support a club during boxing season. Several sporting men are planning to stage bouts in the vicinity of 5th and Market streets this fall.

TRAPSHOOT WITH BOTH EYES OPEN IS ADVICE TO NOVICES BY EXPERT

If a Gunner Is Possessed of a Pair of Normal Eyes, Undoubtedly the Proper Way Is to Keep Optics Focused on Target in Natural Manner.

As to whether it is better to trapshoot with both eyes open or to shut the eye not directly concerned with the sighting seems to be a source of considerable worry to some shooters, especially beginners. If a shooter is possessed of a pair of normal eyes, undoubtedly the proper way to sight a shotgun is to keep both eyes wide open and focused on the target in a natural and easy manner. The advantage of sighting in this way are a clear view of the entire field, including that part which would be otherwise cut off by the gun's barrel, and freedom from the eye-strain which results from any unnatural use of the eyes.

It is advisable for all new shooters to learn to shoot with both eyes open, unless some actual optical defect makes it impossible. Older men, who have been shooting for a great many years with one eye sighting, will find some difficulty in changing, as constant practice will have crystallized into a second nature the habit of closing one eye. A point to be considered, however, is that you have nothing to lose by test, as it is easy enough to go back to the old system again, if necessary.

One of Newton's laws says that action and reaction are always equal and in opposite directions, which explains why firearms from the gentle .22 rifle to the muscle-pounding wild-fowl gun have a tendency to move in the direction of the shooter's shoulder.

If a rifle, shotgun or revolver were supported directly in line with the axis of the bore, the barrel would recoil straight back and would have no excuse for jumping upwards. Revolvers jump worse than other firearms because their load is heavier in proportion to their weight, and their support is relatively so much farther below the axis of the bore.

Many sportsmen are under the impression that this jump of a revolver barrel causes the bullet to fly wild and leads to the oft-repeated statement by fairly good rifle shot that he can't shoot a pistol because he isn't able to hold the pistol tight enough to keep it from jumping and so spoiling his aim.

Now, in the first place, there isn't a man living who can hold a large caliber revolver so that it will not jump, and in the second place, the effect of jump on the flight of the bullet is small and is a constant quantity, which has been compensated for when the sights are put on in the factory. Therefore, if a man gives this excuse for poor pistol pointing, you are safe in requesting him to sell his rate to the submachine.

A. D. H. Plymouth, Ind. I have a rifle that is tested. Can you inform me if there is any acid or chemical I could put in the barrel to eat the lead out and not injure the rifling? If so, what is it and how long should it stand in the barrel?

Ans.—Lead offers a very high resistance to the chemical action of the various acids and alkalis. It is extensively used in various manufactures because of this fact. There are, of course, several different chemicals which will affect lead, but unfortunately all of the chemicals which will affect lead will affect in a much greater degree the iron or steel of the barrel. The best way to remove lead is to use a brass bristle brush. Brass is softer than the iron or steel of the barrel and cannot harm it, but it is much harder than the lead, and scrubbing the barrel with a brass brush will cut out the lead without harming the barrel.

Will an auto-loading shotgun shoot and penetrate as hard as a pump gun? Ans.—Yes, it is the fact that the auto-loading shotgun keeps the shell locked into the chamber. "A Fellow Sportsman," Milwaukee, Wis. I. In the Model 1903 Automatic a reliable gun for small game? Ans.—Yes.

3 Is the .22-caliber smokeless hollow point bullet a good shell to use? If not, which would be best with least injury to the barrel? Ans.—Lesmok or semiautomatics give less wear on the barrel than smokeless cartridges. However, cartridges of this type of course furnished loaded with all kinds of powder.

2 Are retailers allowed to sell new rifles at less than regular catalogue prices? Ans.—Most firearms manufacturers make a practice of publishing their catalogues with list prices. These list prices are subject to discount by dealers. This applies to the make you mention as well as others.

4 What is the distance the .22 automatic will fire accurately? Ans.—50 to 300 yards. 5 What killing power has it? Ans.—About the same as the .22 long rifle.

Readers are reminded that this column is open to questions which should be sent to the Editor of the Sportsman and to discussions by the readers on anything connected with hunting or target shooting.—A. F. Lane.

UMPIRES HAVING TOUGH WORK UNDER PRESENT EXCITING CONDITIONS

We notice where a German war governor has forbidden Belgians to fight for their country. We notice where a German war governor has forbidden Belgians to fight for their country. We notice where a German war governor has forbidden Belgians to fight for their country.

Dear Sir: I notice where an American sports writer has brought up the matter of England's sporting decadence after this war is over. He assumes the belief that by losing so many of her best men she will be at a loss to refill these gaps. On the other side of the matter, England will have put two million into the field at hard training, where most of them knew but little of outdoor life in any general sense. This war will develop, rather than retard, her athletic resources, and I hardly think that America will have to wait for any long period after peace is declared to find England ready again to take up her share of international play. H. H. F., Jr.

1914-1915 The Braves started their upward march in 1915 around the same part of July that the justly renowned 1914 drive began. It was on the second Western trip that Stalling's men developed their devastating power, and it will be on the second Western trip that pannaat chances for 1915 must be considered.

Even with a rickety start the Braves are no further away today than they were a year ago. Hardly as far back in fact. And they still have the pleasant memory of that drive to keep them fighting, which shows how one good habit can help develop another. There is unusual interest ahead in observing Brave actions these next two weeks to see whether or not the human system is capable of housing two such upfits in successive years.
